Edw. Juneau Becomes Partner In SM&S Firm

C. H. Sheppard, owner of the consulting engineering firm of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab, today announced that he has formed a partnership with Edward Juneau, who has been in charge of the firm's local office, and Charles L. Sheppard, his son, who has been associated with him at the firm's Alton office.

Sheppard originally formed a partnership with W. A. Morgan and John E. Schwaab in 1959, and continued the engineering firm after the death of Mr. Schwaab in 1955 and Mr. Morgan in 1960. Sheppard is a registered professional engineer in the state, having graduated from the University of Illinois with a degree in civil engineering. He served in World War I as an officer with artillery and since his arrival in Alton in 1921, has been engaged as engineer on a number of projects in this area.

The firm presently is engaged in preparation of plans for a storm water relief sewer system in Granite City, the improvement of Madison avenue in Madison.

Juneau, who lives at 2656 Delmar avenue, is an Illinois registered professional engineer, having graduated from Shurtleff College with a degree of bachelor of science in mathematics and Missouri School of Mines with a degree of bachelor of science in civil engineering. He served in the U. S. Navy as an ensign from 1944 to 1946 and has been employed by SM&S since May 1950.

Charles L. Sheppard also is an Illinois registered professional engineer. He was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1933 and served as a lieutenant in the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers from 1933 to 1935. He has been employed by his father's firm since October 1935.

The firm will continue under the name of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab with offices in Granite City, Alton and Edwardsville.

Pointer Who Fell 65 Feet Remains In Fair Condition

John Billick, 44, of 639 Jefferson avenue, Venice, remains in fair condition at St. Elizabeth's Hospital from injuries suffered last Monday when he fell from a scaffold.

Employed with the Hartman-Walsh Painting Co., St. Louis, as a painter, Billick lost his balance and plummeted 65 feet to the ground while at work at a new addition under construction at Granite City Steel Co.

He suffered two fractured knee caps, a broken bone in his left leg, severely lacerated arms, face cuts, and possible internal injuries when he landed on a wooden stake.

HOME OWNERS INSURANCE CALL REINHARDT

SEVERAL INCHES OF WATER on the street and up in the yards of homes at Spalding and Vesce avenues in the Cloverview subdivision, resulting from fall Thursday and Friday. Residents say the only way they can get out of their houses is by driving through water.

High Water Complaints From Cloverview Area

Residents of the area of the Cloverview subdivision at Spalding and Vesce avenues complained Friday they were virtually trapped in their homes by water in the street and up in their yards.

The only way to get out of the sidewalk-less subdivision was to drive out of driveways in automobiles.

On Friday morning, following 1.02-inch of rain which fell on Thursday and Friday, several residents, whose children walk to school, had to take them from their homes by auto and drive through several inches of water for a distance of about a half-block before letting them out on dry pavement.

The same condition prevailed early last week, following the warm temperatures of a week ago which melted snow, and small drainage ditch between houses at 4018 and 4020 Vesce avenue, was cleared by two of the residents who spent several hours digging and shoveling mud and mud.

The householder's report said that in severe rainstorms, water flows into their basements.

Unless some corrective measures are taken to connect the area into an East Side Levee & Sanitary District line at Ponton road, the homeowners are expecting water damage with spring rains and a mosquito problem later in the spring.

Ask Governor To Settle Levee Board's Dispute

The three-member majority faction of the East Side Levee & Sanitary District board of trustees seeks to spur settlement of the dispute over the board today when it meets with Gov. Otto Kerner in Springfield.

Thomas F. "Skip" Hennessy, a member of the majority group which includes Lawrence Tolar and John E. Molla, said they will seek the governor's intervention in an effort to settle the disputed presidency of the board, which is claimed by both Dan E. Costello and Tolar, and is presently the subject of litigation in an East St. Louis court.

Hennessy, replying to a letter from East St. Louis Chamber of Commerce President H. G. Baker Jr., in which Baker requested that the board members settle their differences immediately, said that the majority faction will ask Gov. Kerner, as head of the Democratic party in Illinois, to try and settle this matter.

Hennessy also said his group is willing to hold an open discussion of the matter before a group of representative citizens, and that East St. Louis Mayor Alvin G. Fields "could have settled this matter, and still can, by using his influence" as Democratic party State Committee chairman.

The dispute over the presidency of the board, which began last December when Costello, an employee of the Fields Plumbing Co., owned by Mayor Fields, and George Duff, an East St. Louis city license inspector appointed by Fields, elected Costello president by a 2-0 vote after Hennessy, Tolar and Molla withdrew from the meeting on the assumption that the two remaining members did not constitute a legal majority and no business could be conducted.

The three then met later and nominated and elected Tolar president by a 3-0 vote. Regular board meetings since have often been disrupted by disputes over just who is president, and all contracts, ordinances and checks requiring board approval since January have been signed by all five board members, with neither Costello or Tolar designated as president.

Charge Follows Crash
A charge of following too closely was filed against Gary E. Corns, 47, of 1709A Cleveland blvd., after the front of his car collided with the rear of the auto of Fred McCollegan, 38, of 2232 Lee avenue on Niedringhaus avenue at Edison avenue at 8:08 p.m. Saturday. Both had been headed east. He posted his driver's license in lieu of bond.

Vandalism Report
Police were notified that vandals were knocking over garbage cans and driving on the sidewalk in the 3200 block of Rogers avenue at 10:00 p.m. Friday. The car was gone when police arrived.

Gliks Honor Employees During Annual Dinner

The annual dinner for Gliks Department store employees was held last week at a St. Louis restaurant. Five-year service awards were presented by the president, Joseph Gliks, to three members of the Bellemeville store staff—William East, William Herman and Juanita Rosenberg.

A new slogan, "The friendliness of Gliks," was announced and winners of awards for suggesting the best slogans went to Glenn Velt of the Edwardsville store and Wayne Scannell of the Madison store.

Winners of courtesy awards were Helen Knezevich of the Madison store and Ede Shepherd of the Bellemeville store.

President Gliks reviewed the firm's business of the past year and said all five stores set high sales volumes during 1960.

First Secretary Joseph Rich explained new store rules and regulations and a special pamphlet, prepared by David Leipziger for Gliks, was presented. The pamphlet outlines sales approaches and sales techniques to better serve the store customers.

MORE ABOUT 11,800 Pupils

1940 Listed For GCIS
Of the 11,876 students expected to attend the schools anticipated at GCIS, 1255 at Coolidge, 724 at Prather, 648 at Crenshaw, 624 at Logan and 584 at Marshall, 691 at Nameeki, 640 at Mitchell, 500 at Webster, 345 at Stalling, 405 at Logan and its annex, 356 at McKinley, 401 at Emerson, 480 at Niedringhaus, 450 at Washington, 353 at Wilson, 295 at Lake and 540 at Maryville.

Discussing the expected overcrowding of 1832, Supt. Harold M. Kaiser says, "Technically, these pupils are called 'unhoused.' This term refers to pupils who are attending classes in rooms that are not of standard size, basement rooms or by attending classes with enrollment in excess of 30 pupils.

"By using sub-standard classrooms in the school district, an additional 1330 pupil stations are gained. Approximately 600 pupils currently are attending schools in classrooms with enrollments in excess of 30 pupils.

"Overcrowded classrooms do not exist in all schools. For September 1961, conditions will be at approximately normal capacities at the junior and senior high school levels.

Full Use Of Central Again
"For example, by using Central Junior high school at capacity, as well as Prather and Coolidge Junior high schools, the enrollment at the junior high level can be accommodated for September. At the senior high school, with the new addition and minor modifications to the existing buildings, there appears to be no serious overcrowding conditions for several years to come.

"Major overcrowding is primarily in the elementary schools, but here again, serious overcrowding is not in all of the elementary schools."

The superintendent cites Wilson, Maryville, Nameeki, Mitchell and Prohardt as the main problem areas. With 65 classrooms and six kindergarten rooms, they have a normal capacity of 2310. Twelve makeshift rooms afford room for another 315, for an adjusted capacity of 2625.

Compared to the 2625 figure.

"George Washington," one of the bank messengers, and the young ladies will serve coffee and cake to all persons visiting the bank on Wednesday, Fischer said. However, the special cake is to be saved for display.

In Serious Condition After Severe Beating

Beaten savagely at his home Feb. 15, Tony DeBello, 77, of 1049 Washington avenue, Madison, is in serious condition at McMillan Hospital, St. Louis, where he was transferred Thursday from St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Police learned over 200 stitches were necessary to close head wounds inflicted by fists, feet, and a blunt instrument by a trio of youths who gagged him, threw a blanket over his head and tied him with rope and a broken belt. They left after one remarked, "That's enough," he related.

DeBello obtained aid Thursday morning by calling to a neighbor after working loose from his bonds. He had lain on the floor throughout the night.

Several anonymous notices were received by the Press-Record on Saturday, and this morning, Mrs. Jerry Arbeiter, 2029 Washington avenue, reported spotting "a bright one" Sunday morning in the 2700 block of Madison avenue.

Mrs. Arbeiter said she was walking home from Concordia Lutheran Church with her six-year-old daughter, Lynnette, when they saw the robin in a yard.

The charge was based on alleged theft of $40 from a Granite City home Feb. 7.

No New Clues In Bulla Case; Accidental Verdict

The death of Joseph Bulla, 43, surrounded in a veil of mystery since he was found frozen in a cornfield a short distance south of State Aid Route 35 on Jan. 27 during an air search, has been ruled "accidental, due to exposure," by a coroner's jury, conducted by Deputy Coroner Francis Lahoy.

A total of 15 witnesses—state troopers, city police officers, and friends appeared at the hearing but no new clues were obtained as basis to declare an open verdict.

Mrs. Charlotte Bulla, his wife, repeated an earlier statement made to law enforcement officials in which she said she had been at a tavern on Lake drive in Pontoon Beach area on the evening of Jan. 23 and had been left there by her husband. She had not seen him after that until his body was found, she said.

Other testimony had been the same as listed on police reports.

In the dependent wings, provisions have been made for a nursery, four-bed dormitory quarters and six individual rooms. Two children will be permitted per room in these wings.

A "passive recreation" alcove also will be built for each of the wings, however, with less strict supervision.

The shelter is planned to accommodate 20 juveniles — dependent and delinquent — under normal conditions, with a maximum of 40. Additional rooms to accommodate 40 more juveniles can be conveniently added in the future.

Classroom Facilities. Plans also call for one large classroom and a nursery-room type recreation area in the basement.

The classroom will be equipped with a sliding door partition in case of separate classes. Daily classes will be held and will be tutored by an instructor to be provided by the county.

The classroom will be of the "country school" type, since all age groups will be taught together.

The recreational facilities include an area for "active recreation" for playing shuffleboard, table-tennis and other indoor sports-type games.

The facilities may be used by both types of juveniles, but again strict supervision will prevail.

Near the hub, on the ground floor, a living-dining room is planned. The room will have a television set in it and will be decorated to create a home-style effect.

Also included in the plans are large two-room living quarters for use by the superintendent and his wife.

One of the unique features of the new structure is a planned isolated heating unit, and can be fired by either gas or oil fuel.

Design of Proposed County Detention Home Outlined

Facilities planned for the county's proposed juvenile detention home were outlined last week by Architect Samuel E. Saner during a public meeting called Thursday in Edwardsville by the county board's juvenile detention home committee.

William B. Webb Jr., Granite City assistant supervisor, called upon Saner to explain the design of the proposed $200,000 home which is to be erected on the grounds of the Madison County Tuberculosis Sanatorium near Edwardsville.

The two-hour meeting was attended by about 25 interested citizens along with county officials, including County Judge Michael Kinney and Gas Haller, chairman of the county board.

Webb reported that he and the committee will present the plans to the county board at a regular meeting tomorrow at the court house and request that construction bids be sought.

The construction is to be financed with 60% of the county's monthly income from half-cent sales tax. The reserve fund now totals $88,000 and the county board last year budgeted $114,000 for the construction.

Home-Like Atmosphere

The shelter, designed to create a favorable home-like atmosphere, is made up of five wings connected to a central control office, the hub of operations.

A transparent, break-proof plexiglass wall will enclose the control hub, which will house an audio-monitoring system to maintain close contact with each of the 36 rooms.

The monitoring system will be used to give direction to the youngsters, pipe in music to the rooms, give information to the children, and can be connected to a tape recorder.

All five wings will be visible from the hub, which will be occupied by supervisors on a 24-hour basis.

Separate Wings

To be housed in the five wings will be a parole wing, separate quarters for dependent girls, dependent boys, delinquent girls and delinquent boys.

A series of rooms make up the parole wing. Planned are three rooms for use by social workers and psychiatrists in studying and reviewing individual cases. The rooms will be equipped with observation windows.

A reception room, secretary's office, hearing room and a combination clinic and visitors room also are provided in the parole wing, which was designed after consultation with psychiatrists and psychologists.

In the delinquent section, two isolation rooms are planned — one each for the boys' and girls' wing — with eight remaining rooms having security type doors and windows.

A "passive recreation" area is contained in an alcove in each wing, for use in studying, reading, playing parlor games and other mild type recreation.

Design Of Wings

Only one delinquent is permitted in each security room but delinquents will be allowed in groups in the recreation area under constant supervision of shelter personnel.

In the dependent wings, provisions have been made for a nursery, four-bed dormitory quarters and six individual rooms. Two children will be permitted per room in these wings.

A "passive recreation" alcove also will be built for each of the wings, however, with less strict supervision.

The shelter is planned to accommodate 20 juveniles — dependent and delinquent — under normal conditions, with a maximum of 40. Additional rooms to accommodate 40 more juveniles can be conveniently added in the future.

Classroom Facilities

Optimists Hear Vital Role Goodwill Industries Play

The role of Goodwill Industries, Inc., in restoring human dignity and in aiding the state and national economy was illustrated by Harry Holtz, public relations director of the organization with headquarters in St. Louis.

Holtz spoke at the Noonday Optimist Club meeting Thursday at the Elks Club in which more than 50 members attended and said that Goodwill processing plants gross more than a million dollars annually.

He said that the handicapped persons employed at the plant had considered themselves public freeloaders, unable to fulfill a worthwhile capacity in life are now happy, earning a reasonable income and becoming prepared for jobs in outside industry and business.

400 Employees

More than 400 persons are employed at the St. Louis plant, which recycles items of discarded goods for resale into the 39 out-let stores in the Missouri-Illinois area.

The workers, some with arms missing and other physical disabilities, go about their workday world in an efficient manner.

Holtz commented that the workers receive the highest minimum wage scale in the nation, for Goodwill employees, earning $1 per hour.

Their psyches, comparatively small, financially, represent personal achievement and keep the handicapped off the welfare rolls—something the workers are proud to boast of.

Their employment not only helps alleviate welfare financial assistance, but helps boost the economy.

Trained For Other Jobs

From the training received at the Goodwill plant, many go on to outside jobs and are placed through Missouri and Illinois state employment agencies.

Since the beginning of the Goodwill in 1918, more than 10,000 persons have been given normal occupations.

The gross income received by the plant puts it in the big business bracket, but since the organization keeps no profit for itself, it passes on the income to workers in the form of higher wages.

The equipment used in the operations of refurbishing clothing, restoring furniture, repairing appliances or countless other processes all comes from United Fund grants or from private donations.

Thousands of household discarded items are handled daily, in swift, efficient fashion, but the plant could use many more tons of household items.

Holtz said that an estimate shows that Goodwill receives only 10% of all total discards. The other 90% he said is thrown in the junk heap by householers.

Needs More Discarded Items

The Goodwill plant, he said, could be equipped to handle thousands of more items, and said that if the plant could receive enough discarded items, it could employ more than 1000.

Bi-weekly pickups are made in the Quad-City area, some from a disposal container and others from house-to-house pick ups.

Occasionally, an item is found its way into the collections, such as a cremation urn, and if it cannot be used it is either thrown or pitched in the trash barrels.

In a lighter vein, however, Holtz recalled the instance where a housewife had pledged her old kitchen range when her new stove would be installed.

On the day her new stove arrived she contacted Goodwill to pick up the old stove, since she had no room to store it. Goodwill employees came to the house and removed the stove. A couple of hours later, the woman frantically called the plant manager and asked if her stove was still in the oven. It was.

Official 'Key To City' Features Seal, Emblem
Granite City now has an official key.

Mayor Davis says 10 are on hand for presentation to dignitaries. "I wish we would have had them sooner, so we could have given one to President Kennedy when he visited the city during his campaign," the mayor said.

The keys, gold in color, are about 2 1/2 inches long and on one side bear the legend "Granite City, Illinois, and the emblem of the All-America City with the year 1958. The other side carried the city's "industrial magnet" seal and the inscription "Leonard R. Davis, Mayor, 1949-1961."

The first 10 keys, obtained from the Green Co., cost a total of $245.25—$24.50-a-piece — including the fee for die and tool labor and service charges, as well as shipping.

"From now on, the keys will cost only a dollar apiece," the mayor said.

The mayor said Friday he does not know who will get the first key. It may be Gov. Otto Kerner, who is scheduled to visit the city on April 19 to be guest speaker at the annual public affairs banquet of the Quad-City Business & Professional Women's Club.

District Tourneys Begin Tuesday; Venice And Lincoln Play At Triad

Their regular schedules completed, basketball squads from smaller high schools in the area will begin competition in district tournaments this week, with the winners getting the opportunity to show their stuff against larger schools when the IHSAA regionals swing into action on Feb. 27.

Two Quad-City schools, Venice and Venice Lincoln, are both entries in the Triad district tournament, which opens tomorrow night at the consolidated high school on U. S. Route 40 near St. Jacob. Other area sectionals will begin the same evening at Waterloo, Patoka, and Worden.

Intersectional Games

With few exceptions, larger schools in this section of Illinois have one or two contests remaining on their regular schedules, and a couple of them will give fans a chance to watch highly-rated teams from outside the immediate vicinity perform.

Next Friday night's schedule finds Pinckneyville at Alton and Wood River in Centralia. Both the Pincks and Orphans rank among the top five prep squads in the state, according to the latest polls. Collinsville, No. 1 for most of the season, is in East St. Louis Friday to play Lincoln.

The only conference game remaining to be played hereabouts is Madison's contest at Cahokia Tuesday evening, and the outcome is of little consequence, since the Trojans won the Midwest title outright two weeks ago.

Marquette Is YHS Foe

Back to more pressing matters, tonight's first-round games at Triad involve Western Military Academy of Alton and Lovejoy of Brooklyn at 7, with Venice meeting another Alton school, Marquette, at 8:30. Seats at the Triad gym are not reserved, and will be available on a first-come, first-served basis throughout the district touring.

On Wednesday evening, first-seeded Triad battles the WMA-Lovejoy winner at 7, and the Lincoln of Venice squad will meet the survivor of the Venice-Marquette contest at 8:30.

Triad and the Rams, the one-two choices in the district, are favored to advance to the tournament finals, which will be played at 8 p.m. Friday. The winner of that game advances to the Granite City regional, meeting Madison in the first round.

Rams Are Tough

The Rams, although their record is not as impressive as that compiled this season by the Knights, probably will give Triad a stiff test for the district title, having earlier upset the state, which could boost somebody else into the finals.

The caliber of Lincoln's competition has been consistently so far, that it faced by Triad is higher.

The district tournament at Waterloo, which follows the same schedule as the meet at Triad, includes Columbia, Duplo, Freeburg, Lebanon, Valmeyer, St. Peter and Paul of Waterloo and Waterloo Community.

13 Coolidge JHS Grapplers Are Awarded Letters

Thirteen Coolidge junior high school wrestlers have been awarded letters in recognition of their performance during the season. The letters were presented by Coach Bob Moske, who guided the Braves through their third consecutive undefeated season.

The lettermen are Dan King, Ed Rustio, Frank Maxfield, Jim Nash, Jack McKeehan, Pete Tegel, Ron Shafer, Ed Rustio, Gary Forshee, John Nemeth, Richard Bledsoe, John Love and Wayne Brewer. Team manager was Terry Young.

The Braves had a perfect 8-0 record in dual meets this season. They won one of two trophies in a regional tournament, and stretched their dual meet victory string to 31 in a row.

Latin Quarters Gains Playoff Berth By Upsetting Spengler Oil, 70-66

Latin Quarters eased into the four-team playoff round of the Granite City park district's Classic Basketball league Thursday night at Prather junior high school by upsetting second-place Spengler Oil 70-66.

Latin Quarters otherwise would have finished in a three-way tie for last place with the Teachers and Bowland, tied at a slim 38-36. The Braves led and hung on against the league runners-up.

The winners had two big offensive guns in Joe Gonzales with 27 points and Joe Martinez with 24. Art Borchers topped Spengler Oil with 16 markers and Andy Hezneck added 13.

The Teachers, who were scheduled to oppose Friedman's in the first Classic league contest Thursday, won on a forfeit when Friedman's failed to show a full team.

The contest was of interest since the league's two leading scorers, Bob Miller of the Teachers and Clarence Hand of Friedman's, probably would have decided the individual point championship had the game been played.

As it was, Miller, as Teachers

40-24 Venice Grade Wins; Expect Taller Squad Next Season

Richard Esington led his Venice grade school team to a 40-24 win over St. Martin's of East St. Louis on the home hard wood Thursday night in a post-season contest.

Principal Roger Davis' boys, who ended the regular season with an 8-14 won-and-lost mark, will engage in another post-season game at 6:30 p.m. today when they play host to a fifth-grade grade team from the local YMCA.

The game will be the last of the season, and Davis already is predicting better things for next season.

Esington, a sixth grader who has squarred in all 22 games this season, will be back again next year, although four of his starting lineups will be claimed by graduation.

Despite this, there are second-stringers who have seen plenty of varsity action, and should be ready to fill the gap. There will be more height and, with the available experience, the junior Devils should be more balanced and stronger for the new conference they entered for the first time this season.

Recreation Activities In Area To Be Surveyed

The third in a series of four sample surveys on the recreational activities of the American people will be conducted here starting Feb. 27, it was announced today by Director Taylor W. Golden of the U. S. Census Bureau's regional office at St. Louis.

The two previous surveys in the series were conducted in September and November of 1960 with the final one scheduled for June of this year.

The recreational surveys are being carried out locally and in other areas of the country by the Census Bureau for the Outdoor Recreation Resources Review Commission, a temporary government body established by the Congress to study recreational policies and programs to meet future needs for both public and private outdoor recreation opportunities.

Members of a number of local families, selected by means of the Census Bureau's scientific sampling program, will be interviewed regarding their outdoor recreational activities. Topics to be covered include vacation trips away from home, other trips for outdoor recreation, other recreational activities and family ownership of recreational equipment. Information will be collected on the length of vacation, time of year vacations are taken, distance traveled, expenditures, and related items.

Local interviews in the recreation survey will be conducted by Mrs. Dorothy Groh and Mrs. Vera Fantini.

Many Signs That Mitchell Area Is On The Move

Growth of the Mitchell area has brought with it a need for signs to identify streets. Recognizing this, Mitchell Kiwanis are purchasing reflective-type markers, and club members will erect them at street corners this spring.

Another phase of the changing Mitchell scene is construction of an interstate highway. More commercial development also is in the offing, and the school district is considering enlarging the Mitchell campus and either adding to the present school or building another.

With many homes added in recent years, it is clear that Mitchell is on the move. Its closeness to the site of the new state university, along with other factors, indicates an even more rapid growth rate for the future.

Judging often prevents people from appraising themselves.

Gradual Expansion Will Cost Less Per Classroom Than New Schools

Granite City school officials' decision to concentrate on only the immediate classroom needs seems wise. Under their present policy of adding rooms, rather than seeking alternatives to school construction, gradual expansion is being carried out to them other than going to the public with a bond issue program.

We do not envision a dark economic future, but there is no question that employment growth and home construction have slowed, directly affecting enrollment prospects. The school population is certain to increase—large groups already are working their way up through the 13 classes, but there is no reason for panic. As Supt. Kaiser comments, school buildings can be used more fully than now in 1961-62, and a few months of study-for making additional recommendations will not seriously affect the school district.

It is fortunate that conservation and investment of funds have left a balance so that an addition can be built and present facilities partitioned to create room for conversion of existing school space and adding of classrooms to a building already equipped with adequate basic facilities should prove much, less costly than entirely new construction.

Thorough Police Work Can Be Important To The Innocent

As reported by Madison police when a man was convicted this month for a series of home burglaries in Madison and Venice in 1960, re-enactment of crimes and other investigative procedures can protect the innocent as well as aid in the successful prosecution of those who are guilty.

In the example cited, a 13-year-old boy was suspected of one of the Madison burglaries falsely admitted it. Under routine handling, the case might have ended there, with the break-in marked "solved" and the suspect punished. But due to thorough police work, the boy's record remains unblemished.

Tolerance is not a matter of conversation; it is the business of living.

LADIES DEMOCRATIC CLUB
INSTALL NEW OFFICERS
The Venice Ladies Democratic Club met Thursday evening at the Odd Fellows Hall, and installation of officers for the coming year was held.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Eileen Edwards, retiring president, who gave a welcome to all guests. A flag ceremony was held, and the group sang "God Bless America."

Mrs. Edwards called upon the marshal, Mrs. Mabel McGee, to introduce the installing officer, Mrs. Hazel Painter, installing chaplain, Mrs. Betty Guffy, and installing musician, Mrs. Mary Ann Brown. Mrs. McGee was also the assistant installing officer.

Following the introductions, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Painter to proceed with the installation. As new president, Miss Rose Thompson, was introduced, Mabel Lopez sang "Exodus."

Other officers installed were Mrs. Georgiann Marshall, vice president; Mrs. Marcella Boush, secretary; Mrs. Sybil Robbs, treasurer; Mrs. Lou Anderson, chaplain; Mrs. Ann Hoover, marshal; and Mrs. Pearl Hoover, Mrs. Jessie Foley and Mrs. Hazel Cottrell, trustees.

Following the installation, Mrs. Edwards thanked the members for their assistance throughout her year in office and wished Miss Thompson, new president, a successful year. The gavel was turned over to the new president. As the retiring president was escorted to her place, Lopez sang, "May You Always."

Mayor John R. Lee was presented to the group for a brief address. He asked for the group's support for re-election. He also spoke of his desire to return in the near future and talk over problems with the club.

Mayor Lee then introduced other officials and guests, including Dan McGee, county treasurer; Harry E. Hartman, city attorney; John Gitchett, state's attorney; Bernard Anderson, city treasurer; William M. Boush, city clerk; Hank Svezla and George Mangi, Second Ward aldermen; Harry Hunter, First Ward alderman; Wesley Edwards, police magistrate; Jay Mauer, precinct committeeman; and Larry Fuent and Ralph Anderson.

Games were played and prizes were awarded. Two-ounce luncheon was served to the

Brotherhood Timely Topic During Lenten Season

It is appropriate that the early days of Lent coincide this year with Brotherhood Week, currently being observed for the 28th year under sponsorship of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

While observed only in the Christian church, the interval before Easter is a time in which all are encouraged to pray and meditate on individual faith and action and on God's gift to mankind.

Service to God, as exemplified by such ideals as brotherhood, will be uppermost in the minds of Quad-Cityans during the 40-day Lenten season.

Weather Forecasting By U. S. Satellite Passes First Test

For some time it has been predicted that man-made satellites would revolutionize weather forecasting by giving a "bird's eye" view of cloud formations. Now, the United States Tiro II has won friends in Australia by accurately forecasting a break in a heat wave that gripped the southern part of that continent.

Melbourne and the surrounding area sweltered with daily temperatures of over 100 degrees this "winter," close to a record even though the seasons are reversed here. Based on U. S. cloud-cover pictures taken the same day over the Indian and South Pacific Oceans, the Australian Weather Service was able to announce a cold front arriving well in advance.

The instance shows the usefulness of space vehicles in forecasting global weather patterns on a cooperative international basis, such as through the World Meteorological Organization, which this country is assisting but Russia is not. Data is essential from ocean areas, where observations cannot now be obtained on a regular basis except by satellites.

Funds Are Plentiful If State Decides To Borrow From Itself

Robbing Peter to pay Paul may not be a good practice, but borrowing from one fund to meet another fund's obligations is expected to be resorted to by the state before it closes out the fiscal year in June. If the legislature approves such action, it is expected to require repayment during the next biennium.

The issue has underlined the fact that the state has large sums on hand, such as the $100 million in accumulated gas and racing taxes, and will be available for a long period, since study and approval of street and highway plans does not proceed with haste.

The world war II soldier bonus fund, used to retire bonds that financed the payments, has risen to $23 million from $10 million, and driving license fees have built up a $5 million balance in the driver education program.

Much of Illinois' cash troubles are attributed to moving costs of poor relief and other public aid. Precedent for fund transfers dates back to 1936, when money was needed for emergency relief payments. Of course, deferring bills from one fiscal period to the next gives no long-term solution for balancing the books at Springfield.

BRAZILIAN LAW STUDENTS hear Harold Kientle (right), charging machine operator in the open hearth department at Granite City Steel Co., explains the details of the department. The students toured the local steel mill last week.

16 Brazilian Law Students Tour GC Steel, Visit Homes

Sixteen law students from Brazil toured Granite City Steel Company's plant last week, then visited the homes of three steel workers in the community. The South Americans are in the United States as part of a State Department exchange program—one of 10 in operation with different foreign countries.

The purpose of the program is to acquaint students from other countries with various aspects of the American way of life.

The 16 Brazilian students are in the U.S. for two months—spending six weeks at Washington University, St. Louis. They are taking instruction there in American law and making field trips to courts and other legal activities.

Following their tour of the Granite City Steel mill, they expressed amazement at the spectacles of modern steelmaking and the intricate equipment they had seen. They were guests of the company for dinner in the general office building after a panel discussion on labor relations.

Panel members included Gilbert Sykes, electrician and former union official, Paul Turno and Walter Klotzmeier of a firm's industrial relations department.

Their visit to Granite City was concluded with visits to the homes of three steel employees: Harold Kientle, 2323 Grand avenue, of the open hearth department; Harry King, 3736 North street, of the cold strip department; and Harry Weis, 1503 Lindell blvd., from the brickmaking department.

The Brazilians were impressed with the living standards they saw in their visits to the homes, and by the courtesy shown by their hosts.

REVIEWS STATE TAXING PROGRAM

3201 Peeling Road
Granite City, Ill.
Governor Otto Kern
Springfield, Illinois
Honorable Sir:

A recent newspaper article reported that you "would take a second look at an income tax proposal provided it was graduated and that there was general agreement beforehand that various other forms of taxes would be abolished."

The views thus expressed I agree with wholeheartedly. And although four other worthwhile considerations which I will offer here were not mentioned, I nevertheless feel that there would be favorable considerations with your concept of a state income tax.

In addition to being graduated and abolishing other forms of taxes, such as the confederate personal property tax, a fair and equitable state income tax would be beneficial to all Illinois residents because it would be the ethical concept of taxation based on ability to pay as you earn, thus benefiting large families and retired persons; it would broaden the tax base, thus benefiting the already overburdened property owners; it would be uniformly enforceable, thus affording each citizen reasonable assurance that others were paying regularly; and it would raise additional millions of tax dollars by taxing the wages earned by residents of neighboring states who work in Illinois.

At this point, I wish to enlarge on the last item with a couple of "guesstimates." Five neighboring states tax a graduate approximately 25 million dollars each year. If we tax residents who work in those states, while the residents of those same states who work in Illinois cost approximately 750 million dollars which are taken into and income taxed by their home states.

In conclusion, I might point out that our Use Tax Law was passed in an attempt to keep Illinois money in Illinois. Similarly, the SICL is spearheading a move to bring home to Illinois the wages earned by Illinois residents. In the process, we hope to be of service to all citizens of our state by preserving their right and protecting their pocket books.

We also hope that our elected officials will help in this worthy cause.

Respectfully yours,
DAVID L. GANTT

HOUSEWIFE ASKS, 'HOW DO YOU GET RID OF DOGS?'

Press-Record
Mr. Townsend:

In my neighborhood I have many good friends and neighbors. Almost all of them own dogs and about 95% of the dogs run loose.

I have been trying to feed the birds during this bad weather but the dogs either eat the feed or frighten the birds away. It is disappointing to see my otherwise law-abiding neighbors turn their heads when their dogs run through our yards, sometimes in groups of six or more. (Or is it the dog catchers' head that is turned?)

Will someone who reads this column please tell me how to get rid of these pests? Calling a dog catcher does not seem to be the answer.

I am not inhuman enough to resort to some of the things that have been suggested, such as poison traps, BB guns, etc. I would just like to see my neighbors show some respect for their Christian consideration they so often speak of.

Anybody have any suggestions?
BIRD LOVER

SHOULD NOT TAKE TOO MUCH RESPONSIBILITY

Dear Granite Cityans:
I have written this letter to our United States Senators and Representative from Illinois. Please think with me on these very important issues and urge action as you believe action should be.

Content of letter:

I am very concerned about Kennedy's package of "priority" domestic measures being sent into action - medical aid for aged under Social Security; minimum wage; federal school aid; aid to distressed areas; and housing.

Please think carefully before you strangle us with costs for social benefits in such blanket medical measures. Please do not mislead us with freedom of choice assurance and give us clauses that indicate "approved" doctors and hospitals.

Will it help us to increase our minimum wage if there is no maximum cost? Will you put money in our left hand and GRAB it from our right hand? Will it aid to control one and not the other?

Federal school aid will eventually ruin our public school system - as the federal government popularizes us regardless of race and creed. Religious instruction, NOW. Religious instruction of parochial schools and special privileges for Christian groups and conditions of private schools are NOT governmental.

If you are invited to contribute to this column, please send your name, address and phone number to the editor. Letters should be 250 words or less.

budget items for financing with public funds.
Right now our neighboring state of Missouri is considering a bill which will give the unemployed father of six children who drew a weekly salary of $67.50 (minus check-offs) a weekly $100 taxable unemployment compensation of $75 per. And the Kennedy Administration is considering handling this family an additional federal check. Need I insult your common sense regarding such plans? I am fearfully awaiting Illinois' plan as well as federal legislation. Aid to distressed areas must be aid to gits.

Housing plans also must be opportunities for individuals to help themselves. Not unsound economic hand-outs.

Civilian defense protection through our federal government. Do not assume and control our personal responsibilities.

Encourage medical groups to "cut the cloth to fit the purse" with tax exemptions that urge help to both aged and needy. Let labor-management negotiate wage scales.

Encourage industry and small business into distressed areas with specified tax reductions and employment instead of unemployment checks.

Use federal loans or tax exemptions to help private companies build housing projects that create employment as well as better housing for the needy. The Y's. These teenagers, age fifteen to nineteen, are a wonderful help to us and to the world. Help us to stand alone. Help us to stand together. Without self-respect we can never gain world-wide respect and nation's Yours very truly,

QUOTES PHYSICIAN'S VIEW OF FLUORINATION

Editor, Press-Record
1812 DuSable Street, Granite City, Ill.

One of the most sane, reasonable and logical articles ever published in this community newspaper, July 1956 edition, and written by F. J. Letch, M.D., a practicing physician and surgeon, is the editorial staff of Northwest Medicine.

"As long as any semblance of logic and common sense is respected to the care or abuse anyone may lavish upon one's own person, it would be reasonable to propose that use of fluorinated water to combat tooth decay also be used to combat the spread of each individual."

"That means keeping fluoridation of community water supply. In the United States of America a person may use reasonable care and persistence to his heart's content; but it is a violation of the moral law to leave to the meddling arm of the State (at least, for one individual to do, or not to do, something else for the benefit of the community."

"Nor is the moral law changed in the slightest if such an individual, by joining with other individuals to form a committee, community, society, or a majority, based on the moral law, is to do something against the latter's Will. These collective efforts have no right or privileges different from those of the individuals comprising them. The moral law is not the matter of numbers."

"The toxicity of sodium fluoride is not a chemical issue as far as the chemical itself is concerned. If anyone doubts that it is, he would do well to read the doubt, and risk doing the same with his life... by swallowing a pinch of it, and then a lethal dose. How toxic it may be when minutely diluted, is not as yet been scientifically determined. Claims of absolute safety are still in the realm of unsubstantiated opinion, and to say the least, hazardous in the face of the known cumulative nature of the substance."

Dear Neighbor:

The snowfall has been lovely. It may have been a big federal aid for us, but how wonderful it has been to the world of nature sleeping beneath the blanket of white.

A few days ago Debbie was asked to help mother. She said, "Well, I've done my share, and now it's your turn to do it." We took a drive and I by surprise, discovered a spiritual truth in this experience.

How many times do we say, "Well, I've forgiven him. Now it's his turn to forgive me." We turn to look at the person who has forgiven. Rather than continue to hold resentment in our hearts. We use the same approach in our dealings with nations. "Well, we've helped them. Now it's their turn to help us." We turn to look at the person who has forgiven. "What is the Christian approach to the problem of forgiveness?" We discovered that we are to forgive without ever thinking of the other fellow will return forgiveness. We may forgive the other fellow and yet he will still carry hatred in his heart. We are to love that person in spite of what he has done to us. In spite of what he may have said about us or how he has made attempts to harm us. This is the power of love. It is powerful to bring us peace. There are two forces at work in this world. Love and Hatred. Hatred destroys. Love builds. Hatred brings trouble. Love brings peace. Hatred is bitterness. Love is sweetness. Hatred is godlessness. Love is godliness. Remember Christ and the Cross. He did not begin to think how folks hated him and their reasons. This was not important. The way He loved them was important. He had forgiven them in his heart for them even though they hated him. He just talked to "His Father" and asked for "His Father" to forgive them, for they know not what they do. May God continue to bless and love you.

Suggest Competent Aid In Preparing Tax Form
Federal income taxpayers who seek professional assistance in preparing their 1956 returns should consult only qualified and competent firms or individuals, Jay G. Philpott, director of Internal Revenue for the Springfield District, advised today.

Members of the accounting and legal professions usually provide top-notch assistance, Philpott noted.

Business taxpayers, find business associates in their bookkeeping and accounting departments, and in banks or other financial institutions are qualified to help them, he pointed out.

Philpott suggests that taxpayers seeking assistance of a tax advisor in the preparation of their returns should:

"Be sure the advisor has a permanent place of business or address where he can be reached in case IRS subsequently questions data on the return."

"Insist that the refund check be sent to you except where circumstances require a power of attorney relationship."

"Beware of those advisors who claim the ability to obtain large refunds, or who ask a percentage of the refund as a fee; and"

"Reject those advisors who suggest unqualified deductions or deductions to which you are not entitled."

Pact May Lead To Airport, Two Industrial Parks

An agreement that could lead to future development of Missouri and Illinois industrial parks and a major airport in Illinois was signed late Thursday afternoon by representatives of the Bi-State Development Agency and the Industrial Park Corp.

The pact calls for the non-profit corporation, which is sponsored by the St. Louis Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce, to acquire land for the three projects. The agency would then develop and operate necessary common-use facilities at each project, including levees, sewage plants and terminal facilities.

R. E. Smyser Jr., Bi-State Agency executive director, told the Press-Record that the pact does not preclude the agency signing agreements with other groups for other purposes or even for identical purposes, such as an alternate airport proposal. Nor does it limit the agency to these projects or to the areas immediately affected.

Trading government budget procedures, Smyser explained that it would be at least July 1963 before federal funds could be obtained to aid in construction of an airport, and that construction work would require much time after that. Development might cost $7 to $10 million but the eventual total would be much higher, he added.

Land Under Option
While no priority has been given, the Missouri industrial park might be the first project started because there is land under option and the Industrial Park Corp. is authorized to operate in Missouri, Smyser said. It plans to seek similar authority in Illinois.

No site for the Illinois development, proposed to include 2000 acres for the airport and an adjacent 3000 acres for an industrial park, has been chosen. The Columbia Botoma proposal in Missouri involves 600 acres to be deeded to Bi-State and about 3200 acres that would be sold to industries.

Preston Ester, chairman of the Bi-State Agency board, commented that the agency "was created to assist in the overall economic development of this bi-state metropolitan district. In taking this step, we are demonstrating our willingness to assist in specific portions of economic development projects appropriate to our legal authority."

"This agreement by no means restricts Bi-State to work with a single group. Actually, it shows our desire to be of general service and to work with any appropriate organization within our area of jurisdiction that is attempting to broaden the economic base of our two-state community."

Hope For Other Projects
"We hope that this pattern of cooperation will stimulate other civic or governmental organizations to consider sponsoring projects in cooperation with our agency, further worthwhile developments in the bi-state area," Ester concluded.

Kenton R. Cravens, president of the Industrial Park Corp., said the agreement "between a government agency and private business is probably a new departure." He said the corporation will seek to complete acquisition of railway and highway rights-of-way in Missouri and to express hope that Federal Aid Interstate Route 270 and a new bridge north of the Chain of Rocks Bridge will be completed by 1965.

St. Louis C. of C. President Aloys P. Kaufmann described the agreement as "the practical beginning of an understanding among business and civic leaders on both sides of the river."

Gibson Backs Ticket, Rich Hits Davis Record
Granite City Democratic Chairman Robert Gibson entered the developing city election ball with an endorsement for the ticket headed by Ernest P. Rich at a meeting sponsored by the ticket's Citizens' League for Efficient Administration party Friday night at the Knights of Columbus hall.

Illinois Young Democrats state president, Gusto told the gathering, "This is not a partisan campaign between Republicans and Democrats. City elections are always non-partisan, therefore, do not apologize because there is a Republican on this ticket. He is a very well qualified candidate."

Gibson added that he holds "a full-time position with the A.P. CIO" and said he would not have come to the meeting if any on the ticket were not his friends. He asserted, "However, Jack Green is against this ticket. We are therefore anti-Jack Green. You can quote me on that."

Rich, running for mayor for the second time, attacked Mayor Leonard Davis for "putting his nephew on the city payroll," lacking "initiative on city problems" and "wasting taxpayer money in building a 'firehouse palace' on Madison avenue." He praised his running mate, who said that if elected he would call frequent meetings to discuss administrative problems in the affairs of the city.

Obie Beasley, candidate for police magistrate, predicted that "the first full-time police magistrate in the history of the

Venice Highway Route Indefinite

State highway construction in Madison county this year is expected to total about $12,000,000, including $3,500,000 in new contracts and $8,750,000 under contracts let previously, Mayor John C. Lee reported to the Venice city council Friday night.

He related that the city Engineer Jack Tolliver had represented Venice at a meeting of the city and Chamber of Commerce officials with state highway division district engineers Thursday.

Interstate and state routes were explained, and a possible new highway routing through Venice was reviewed, the mayor said. The city has sought to have the riverfront road moved westward from an initial routing through Lee Park and between Second and Third streets.

Dr. Lee said the city will seek reopening of the South Main street crossing to auto traffic by March 1. The city has been corresponding with the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad on transfer of the crossing from Kerr street to Main street.

The mayor complimented the street and police departments and the McKinley Bridge for efforts to keep traffic lanes open despite this month's snow and ice.

Fourth Ward Alderman Oscar reported that new street lights are being installed in North Venice, and Dr. Lee said the new type of lights is resulting in major improvement of the street lighting system.

Tax Objection Conference
The mayor asked City Attorney Harry E. Hartman to represent the city at any conferences held on possible settlement of tax objections against the city. The attorney said a conference originally was set for Feb. 21 but may be postponed.

The council authorized future purchase of five new ties to equip the city's two police patrol cars. Three tires were purchased in January, and two from the original set were used as spare tires, Police Chief Robert Tupper reported.

Bridge renovation bids approved amounted to $16,283, and Mayor Lee said he would ask Bridge Manager Henry McMullen to report to the council at its next meeting March 3 on the balance of the $225,440 renovation fund and expenditures authorized to date.

Wayne's revenues were $13,644 to the Illinois Terminal Railroad for center roadway construction, $225,440 for the $225,440 as the 15th installment of engineering costs, $312 to Attorney Hartman for December and January legal work and $70 to the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratory for inspections and tests.

$77,000 Balance
A January police report listed 27 arrests and $404 in fines, and a January treasurer's report showed a city balance of $93,717, receipts of $2568, expenditures of $18,737, a new balance of $77,448, and outstanding checks of $4535, cash in transit totaling $1026 and an $81,457 bank balance.

City Comptroller Carl E. Byrnes reported $183,842 "expenditures during the first nine months of the 1960-61 fiscal year, $2047 in reimbursements and interest and judgments, and the budget total. Only funds depleted thus far are library bonds and interest and judgments, which, he told the council.

The aldermen voted to accept $286 in settlement of the Sweeney and Mildred George, as operator and owner of the Ace of Clubs building, an $11,000 "Grandrap" act circuit court suit resulting from a Feb. 17, 1958, traffic accident in which a police car sustained $472 damage.

SOCIETY Area Council Of PTAs Honors Mrs. Hanfelder

Mrs. Ida Hanfelder, a charter member of the original Mitchell PTA, was presented with a life membership Saturday night at the fourth annual Area PTA Council recognition dinner at the PTA club.

Chosen from among 11 nominees for the award, Mrs. Hanfelder has served as PTA president five times in the past, as publicity chairman and as a PTA historian for the area council.

The nearly 100 members of the PTA council and their guests who attended the smorgasbord dinner and program, also heard Dr. H. B. Brubaker, assistant to the president of Southern Illinois University, speak on "Opportunity at Our Door."

A description of past growth and projected plans for SIU. Brubaker said that not only the growth of the SIU campus at Carbondale, but also the increase in size and enrollment at the East St. Louis and Alton residence centers and a "master plan" for the Southwestern campus.

Nextest addition to SIU facilities will be the new university, he said, with parking facilities to be provided for a projected 17,000 students who will live at home while attending college east of the Quad-Cities.

Since 1958, when a fund drive for the new campus began, over $600,000 has been contributed from this area for the Southwestern campus, he said.

More Opportunities
The new campus will afford a number of opportunities to surrounding communities, he said. More highly educated citizens will improve the economic climate, and the expected 12,000 to 15,000 graduates by 1970 will be a boon to the area.
